

Blue Pumpkin Productions
presents

A Journey to Kreisau

By Marc P. Smith

A riveting and powerful story about a remarkable couple at the center of German resistance to the Nazis: Helmuth James & Freya von Moltke.

Freya von Moltke, at her home, 2003 (at age 93)

Directed by
Marc P. Smith
with
Cha Cha Connor
John Davin
Mike Dorval
Barbara Guertin
Bill Sigalis

“I was overwhelmed by the play.” (Ellen Reisman, retired high school teacher of English, theatre, and communications)

“A Journey to Kreisau is an impressively authentic piece...” (Klemens von Klemperer, History professor emeritus, Smith College)

“...brings to artistic life a little known episode of moral heroism during the savage era of Nazism.” (Larry Lowenthal, Exec. Direc., American Jewish Committee, New Eng. Region)

(5) performances, Wed. Apr. 9-Sat. Apr. 13, 2008
7:30 p.m. Wed-Sat; 3:00 p.m. Sun.
at Boston Playwrights' Theatre
949 Commonwealth Avenue

Sponsored by the German Consulate, Boston

Free Admission. General Seating.

Because of limited seating capacity, advance reservations strongly suggested.

Reserve by phone: 508-757-1472 or by e-mail:

bluepumpkinprod@verizon.net

www.bluepumpkinproductions.com

Photo: Susan L. Smith